

Martius

- First month of the year until about 150 BC
- Named after the God Mars
- Ancestor of all Romans through his sons Romulus and Remus
- God of war, guardian of the state, associated with the cycle of life and death
- Marked the return to the active life of farming, military campaigning and sailing
- Farmers would traditionally trellis vines, prune and sow spring wheat

